

Joint Effort Made to Block Anti-Administration Group

Democrats Prepare for Showdown

(More Convention News on Pages 2 and 3)

CHICAGO, July 20 (AP) — Harriman and Kefauver forces moved tonight to force a showdown at tomorrow's opening session of the Democratic national convention on the seating of anti-Administration delegations from Texas and Mississippi.

The action pointed up anew the working arrangement of Averell Harriman and Sen. Estes Kefauver, both candidates for the presidential nomination, in an effort to keep control of the convention out of the hands of anti-Truman elements.

With North-South tensions over President Truman's "Fair Deal" rising, on the convention eve, the Harriman and Kefauver forces agreed to offer an amendment to the temporary convention rules shortly after the delegates convene.

A spokesman for Harriman said it would provide:

These five major Democratic aspirants for the presidential nomination join in handclaps and laughter just before the convention opens officially. Left to right, ready for today's opening proceedings, are Averell Harriman, Vice President Alben Barkley, Sen. Estes Kefauver, Sen. Robert S. Kerr and Sen. Richard B. Russell.

Democrats to Shape Independent Platform

CHICAGO, July 20 (AP) — labor union organizations will be heard Monday forenoon.

Democratic platform architects said today that unlike the Republicans they won't try to shape the platform to fit conflicting views of the party's presidential aspirants.

"I have not even talked to any candidate as yet," Rep. John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, platform committee chairman, told a reporter.

"Instead of fitting the platform to the candidates, the Democrats views to the platform," McCormack, House majority leader, added.

However, the Congressional leader still hopes in fashioning a civil rights plan that will avoid a party-splitting fight between Northern and Dixie wings of the party.

"I think we have exceptionally good spirit at this convention," McCormack said, "and I'm hoping that spirit will keep us unified."

McCormack expects to wind up public hearings on the new platform group of more than 125 delegates to decide on basic principles for all the planks.

MORE THAN 125 witnesses already have testified at open sessions Wednesday, Thursday and Friday and spokesmen for major parties have been heard.

Nine-Day Spell Of Hot Weather Won't Give Up

Pottstown's nine-day heat wave showed no signs of receding yesterday as the temperature again went over 90 degrees, with more of the same expected today.

The mercury rose from 74 degrees at 7 a. m. to 92 degrees at 3 p. m. as the humidity increased from 60 percent to 95 percent, creating a now-familiar hot and sticky atmosphere.

A half-hour shower around 7 p. m. caused a 10 degree drop in the temperature but hardly made things seem cooler, since it brought increased humidity.

A lull in the heat wave occurred Saturday, as temperatures stay in the low 80's most of the day. The high was 83 degrees at 3:50 p. m. and the low was 78 at they were riding swerved into a guard rail on Route 100 near Flaming Springs at 12:30 o'clock this morning.

The forecast for today and tomorrow is partly cloudy, hot and humid, with scattered afternoon and evening thundershowers. The high today will be from 90 to 95 degrees.

Car Hits Rail, Injuring Four

When Myers and Smoyer arrived on the scene of the commotion, Rhoads became abusive with them also and he was arrested.

Rhoads was taken to borough hall where he posted $400 forfeiture pending a hearing before Justice of the Peace Richard H. Cadmus of the Seventh ward today.

Hummel said that Rhoads told him early Sunday morning that his daughter was ill. The desk sergeant told Rhoads that he should call a doctor and then Rhoads began using foul language, Hummel reported.

When Myers and Smoyer arrived outside his house at 3:30 a. m. and when he went out to investigate he saw that his car had been struck. There were no vehicles in sight, he reported.

Jeffersonville State police who investigated the accident estimated that damage to Hasker's car amounted to $800.

WOMEN STRUCK BY CAR AS THEY CROSS HIGH ST.

One Injured Seriously;
Were Returning From
Atlantic City Excursion

Two Pottstown area women were injured, one seriously, when they were struck by a car as they crossed High street early yesterday morning.

Mrs. Mamie Dickson, 56, of Douglassville RD 1, was admitted to Pottstown hospital for X-ray for possible serious injuries to her hip and chest, and Mrs. Helen Mauger, 32, of Pottstown RD 3, was treated for a bump on the head and a pain in her hip.

The two women were hurt when they were hit by a car driven by Wesley D. Whitson, 24, First avenue, Phoenixville.

The women had returned to Pottstown about 1:45 a. m. with two chartered bus loads of employees from the Sweet Orr company after a day's excursion to Atlantic City.

THE BUS stopped at the northeast corner of High and Hanover streets and the women crossed Hanover street to the northwest corner of the intersection.

They then began to cross High street with the green light but as they neared the closest lane to the south side of High street, Mrs. Mauger said, the light turned yellow and the car that struck them did not wait for the light to turn green.

Mrs. Mauger said, "We saw the car just before it almost hit us and we screamed. It tore the heel right off my shoe."

"I was standing next to Mrs. Dickson and she got the full blow of the car and bumped into me knocking me down," she went on.

"I lay there in the street for about five minutes because someone there told me to lie still until the ambulance arrived," she added.

Talks at Firestone Remain Deadlocked

The three-week long negotiations between the United Rubber Workers (CIO) and the Firestone Tire and Rubber company are still deadlocked, Robert E. Garber, president of Local 356, told members during a meeting in CIO Hall yesterday afternoon.

Garber returned from Columbus, Ohio, site of the new contract talks, to present a report to the union membership. He said the company has turned down all union proposals since the negotiations began on June 27.

The present contract expires Saturday, and the possibilities of a strike were discussed by the membership. In a vote taken the past month, the members gave the executive board the power to call a strike if and when it was deemed necessary.

If the international policy committee, which is conducting the negotiations, believes that no progress can be made, it will call off the talks and recommend action to the executive board, which will decide whether to call a strike or continue under an extension of the present contract.

EISENHOWER'S LIFE IN PICTURES:

NORMANDY beachhead first saw General Eisenhower when he came ashore in a "cuck" which brought him in members of U.S. command on June 15, 1944. The Supreme Commander was in serious conversation with Admiral Ernest J. King, commander-in-chief of U.S. Fleet.

ALLIED VICTORY in France made it possible for General George C. Marshall, U.S. Chief of Staff, to visit Supreme Commander Eisenhower in 1944 by direct air flight from America. The smiling Eisenhower greeted the graver Marshall at a French airport.

THE BATTLE for Germany raged across the Rhine river when Eisenhower, a General in the Army, in March, 1945, visited the citadel of Julich. The stronghold had been captured by eastward driving Americans and Ike got a vivid picture of war's destruction.

Vacationing With Mercury Readers

By THE VACATION EDITOR of The Mercury Staff

Not to ride a horse while vacationing at a dude ranch is like keeping your eyes closed at a movie, and Simon wasn't one to do either—not after shelling out the green stuff.

The stable boy at Saddle Sore ranch had been there long enough to be able to size up his customers. When Simon Simploton came over bright and early in the mornin looking for a nag to ride, the boy brought him just that.

Looking the swash-buckled animal over, Simon felt it wasn't quite dashing enough to go with his flashy Western costume. Trying to act the veteran rider, he drawled out in his newly acquired cowboy talk.

"Lookee here small fry, you take me for a tenderfoot or sumpin' You get along and caper me a hoss that looks like a hoss."

"OK, mister," said the young cowpuncher. "I'll get you a real bronc, but something tells me you better ride ol' Lightning."

LIGHTNING indeed, thought Simon, as he watched the boy lead the old mare back and return with a prancing palomino that looked the match of even Hopalong himself.

"Well here he is mister, the fastest critter west of the Rockies we call him Percy" announced the stable boy.

One glance was enough for Simon to come back with, "Maybe you were right about Lightning—she's more my type."

Youth Writes Story About Stolen Bicycle

COLUMBUS, Ga., July 20 (UPI)—A 15-year-old boy wrote a story today about "the bicycle thief."

"I am just a poor boy," said Newt Jones of nearby Phenix City, Ala. "I work to go to school. Before school was out I would go to school in the morning and deliver groceries in the afternoon."

"I managed," he continued, "to buy me a bicycle with some help from my father. You see there are seven in our family and I can't expect too much help."

Then his letter to the Columbus Ledger Enquirer went on:

"I have a little sister 9 years old. She has never walked. She does not have a wheelchair so you see we have to carry her in our arm."

"ON SUNDAYS I always ride her around on my wheel and the onliest time she gets to go to the show (which she is crazy about) is when I carry her on my bicycle. Well July 4th I carried her to the theater and after the show we came out to go home and some one had stolen my wheel. I thought her heart would break for she knows she won't get to go as much as she did. I hope that the one who got that wheel reads this and always remember that they did not steal a bicycle but the onliest way a little cripple girl had to go about in the city."

Newt has had to give up his grocery job and now he's working at odd jobs when available. The money is put aside for the final payment on a bicycle he doesn't have any more.

Sox Teams Cut Yankee Lead

Brooks, Giants, Cards Triumph

NEW YORK, July 20 (AP) — The Chicago White Sox killed two birds with one stone today as they whipped the pacesetting New York Yankees, 3-4.

The hard-earned victory was Chicago's first of the season in eight attempts in Yankee Stadium, and it also brought to a halt a six-game White Sox losing streak.

Saul Rogovin, presented with an auto and other gifts by his Brooklyn neighbors before the game, appeared headed for an easy triumph as he entered the last of the eighth inning with a 5-1 lead.

Home runs by Ed Robinson and Sherman Lollar accounted for Chicago's first three runs and they added two "insurance" runs in the eighth. Pitcher Leo Thomas squeezed home Robinson with the fifth run and deciding run.

WASHINGTON

JULY 20 (AP) — Washington

inflicted 7-6 and 6-3 defeats on the St. Louis Browns to day to take over third place in the American League and extend its winning streak to five games.

The Senators started into a 7-1 lead in the first game and survived a five-run rally by the Browns in the eighth inning. Contin Marerro shelled in that uprising, posted his eighth victory.

Washington had a 6-0 lead through the fifth inning in the second game as Bob Porterfield, aided by Sandy Consuegra, won his key decision.

Championship Elks Drill Team Honored At Special Dinner

The national championship drill team of Pottstown Lodge 814, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, was presented with a trophy during a dinner in its honor at the Elks' home Saturday night.

Richard T. Frisby, Southeastern district deputy grand exalted ruler, presented a plaque to Capt. Earl R. Strange, in recognition of the championship captured by the team during the national convention in New York city last week.

The team was congratulated in brief talks by S. Paul Seeders, exalted ruler of the lodge; George A. Lissick, chairman of the ways and means committee; Russel Hummel, president of the team; and Strange.

Sixty members and their wives attended the affair, which included entertainment by Russ Morgan and his orchestra.

Exalted Ruler Seeders will present a report on the convention during a meeting at the Elks' home tonight at 8 o'clock.

shop, under which workers would have to join the union immediately after being hired, and would have in continue their membership as long as they are employed by the company.

Under the present contract, a worker doesn't have to join the union until 45 days after being hired, and can quit after a year.

THE UNION also wants an arbitration plan that will provide, for faster settlements, and contract provision to prevent "speed-up" of operations, to prevent rate reductions, and to insure uniform work loads.

The demands also include extension and improvement of pensions, and insurance benefits, such as sickness, accident, hospitalization, surgical and medical coverages, including protection for dependents of employees, pensioners and families of workers on leave of absence in the armed forces.

The local membership voted a 30-day extension of the present plan with the American Casualty company, which has just increased the dependency rate from $1.62 a week to $1.84.

The insurance committee will recommend to the membership at the next meeting whether the local should switch to a different insurance company.

Treasurer Margaret Houck was granted a temporary leave of absence for a month. Charles Dasch will substitute for her during that period.

For the finale the band's trumpet sextet will play the "Second Hungarian Rhapsody" followed by encores of the entire ensemble's special arrangements of popular tunes.

Other free summer concerts will be played on Aug. 5 for the East Enders on the Rupert school grounds for South Pottstonians on Aug. 12 on the grounds of St. John's Lutheran church, with the final program scheduled for Aug. 19 in the North End, probably at the Franklin school.

The car that Evans was driving belongs to Thomas E. League, of Boyertown Rd. 2, who had purchased the auto to be used by his stepson, Robert Edinger, 19, of the same address.

JEFFERSONVILLE State police who investigated the accident took Evans to Montgomery Hall to await action by juvenile authorities.

State police estimated the damage to the vehicle at $200.

CONVENTION OPENS

would offer the proposed amendment to the rules. This may be determined later tonight at a strategy huddle of some 20 delegations called by Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota.

Milton Weilenmann of Utah, representing the Kefauver group, and Richardson Dilworth of Philadelphia, representing the Harriman camp, will lead the floor fight for the amendment.

The amendment was worked out in day-long conferences between the forces of Harriman and Kefauver and was described as an amalgamation of Harriman's proposed "loyalty" test and Kefauver's "Fair Deal" proposal to bar contested delegations from taking part in the voting on their own or other contested delegations.

If it were approved by the convention, previous plans to try to make all delegates honor bound to support the Party's 1952 ticket would be dropped.

Southern leaders of the forces who oppose President Truman were also busy mapping strategy.

IN THE background was the threat that the dispute might lead to just such party bolt by some Southern States as that which cost Truman 39 electoral votes in 1948. Heated charges and counter charges were hurled.

Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas, accused the "two left-wing candidates for the Democratic nomination"—Kefauver and Harriman—of ganging up in a "sorority demonstration of cynical self-interest."

Shivers heads the "regular" Texas slate of 32 delegates, granted temporary seating by the national committee yesterday in preference to a "loyalist" faction headed by former Rep. Maura Maverick. Similarly, the national committee gave the nod to a "regular" slate of 18 from Mississippi.

Northerners who back the Truman program arranged a strategy session for tonight. One of their leaders, Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, told a reporter that about 20 State delegations would take part.

BESIDES HUMPHREY, this camp includes such men as Sen. Herbert Lehman of New York, Sen. William Benton of Connecticut and Sen. Theodore F. Green of Rhode Island.

Humphrey bitterly assailed the national committee's decision to let the anti-Administration delegations from Texas and Mississippi be seated temporarily.

He called the action "a stab in the back" for the Truman program and said that National Chairman Frank E. McKenna "has let the President down."

Shivers, on the other hand, said in a statement that Kefauver had turned against him because Shivers refused to commit the Texans to him. The delegation is uninstructed; Shivers says his choice is Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia.

There are a number of facets of the dispute. While the strategy of the Northern group had not yet been completed, it appeared likely that the showdown would come on one or both of these proposals.

1. A change of the rules which would require that every delegate pledge loyalty to the National conventions or committees will then decide whether to support the ticket or to bolt. Thus they could not take a loyalty pledge without violating their instructions.

2. A provision similar to that adopted by the Republican convention two weeks ago, which would bar contested delegations from voting on any seating contests until their own cases have been decided. If past rules were followed, the 70 disputed delegates would run counter to the instructions received from their state organizations. They have been told, in effect, to report back after the convention and that State conventions or committees will then decide whether to support the ticket or to bolt. Thus they could not take a loyalty pledge without violating their instructions.

IKE OFFICIALLY OUT OF SERVICE

Registration Accepted
With Great Regret by Army Secretary Pace

WASHINGTON, July 20 (AP)—Army Secretary Pace has accepted "with great regret" Dwight D. Eisenhower's resignation as General of the Army. It was disclosed today.

The Army released the text of Eisenhower's letter of resignation. Pace's personal reply, and an Army order dated July 18, formally ending Eisenhower's 49-year military career.

Eisenhower, the Republican presidential nominee, wrote a brief letter of resignation from Chicago July 12. It said:

"Dear Mr. Secretary:
I herewith tender my resignation as an officer of the Army effective at the earliest possible date convenient to the government.
Sincerely,
Dwight D. Eisenhower."

SIX DAYS LATER, the Army disclosed the following order was cut:

"Subject: Resignation
To: General of the Army
Dwight D. Eisenhower, 03522,
United States Army, retired.

"By direction of the President the resignation by General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower, 03522, United States Army, retired, of his commission as an officer of the Army is accepted effective 18 July 1952. By order of the Secretary of the Army:

"WILLIAM E. BERGIN,
Major General, U. S. A.,
The Adjutant General."

On the same day, Pace wrote the following letter to Eisenhower, sending it to his Denver address:

"Dear Gen. Eisenhower:
It is with great regret that I accept the resignation of your commission in the Army. In the discharge of the grave responsibilities you have borne you have displayed the highest measure of devotion to the causes of freedom and inspirational leadership in your various military assignments."

"IN CONSEQUENCE, as you leave, you take with you not only the gratitude of the Army but that of the entire free world as well. May I take this opportunity to convey to you my own personal regards and esteem. With your departure the whole Army feels a deep sense of loss."

FDR Jr. Arrives for Convention

A group of reporters interview Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. shortly after he arrived in Chicago to attend the Democratic National Convention which opens Monday. Young Roosevelt is chairman of the National Committee for Harriman for President.

Jewelry Store Front To Be Modernized

Another High street business place will be glamorized to add luster to the beautiful shopping section.

A. E. Willauer, jeweler at 217 High st., said he was closing his shop next week so that a new, modern front might be built. Willauer is extending the storeroom to the building line, there placing a large show window in line with others in the block. The front will be constructed of structural black glass, trimmed with grey.

Willauer has been at this location for 16 years. He is observing his 25th year in the jewelry business in Pottstown.

There are three Norwegian and three Russian settlements on West Spitsbergen, largest island of the Spitsbergen archipelago.

WILLIAM E. BERGIN,
Major General, U. S. A.,
The Adjutant General."

On the same day, Pace wrote the following letter to Eisenhower, sending it to his Denver address:

Another 'No' Is Registered By Stevenson

CHICAGO, July 20 (AP) — Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois pulled back another notch from the dizzy scramble over the Democratic presidential nomination tonight with "I don't want it" statement to home State roosters.

Vice President Barkley, who does want top spot on the ticket to be picked at the Democratic convention beginning tomorrow, lost support from some labor union leaders but got a bit of comfort from the backing of James A. Farley.

Averell Harriman, hoping for a nod from President Truman, revived up his own drive for the nomination with a slap at Republican candidate Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Harriman said Eisenhower has a "schoolboy" knowledge of domestic problems. And if the General tries to besmirch Administration foreign policy, Harriman predicted, "We'll pin his ears back because he'll be lying."

But all the whirling maneuvers on the eve of the 31st Democratic convention left the outlook as confused and uncertain as ever as to who eventually would pocket the nomination. No one was out front with a clear, comfortable lead. And no one was in position to race away with the prize on the first ballot.

WHILE WOULD-BE candidates scrapped among themselves — in gentle fashion — the real battle of the convention was shaping up as another North-South war over the Administration's "Fair Deal" program.

It may break out tomorrow on the floor of the convention. Control of the convention and the type of nominee at stake in the struggle also involved are contests over anti-Truman delegations from Mississippi and Texas and the possibility of another Dixie bolt.

Northerners are angling for a change in convention rules that would require of every delegate a with a good labor record, we just pledge of loyalty to the party can't think we can win with him. That's the attitude we've taken."

Peace Talks at White House Fail to End Steel Walkout

PITTSBURGH, July 20 (AP) — New peace talks at White House produced again today to end the crippling 49-day-old steel strike.

After an all-day series of meetings, the industry issued a statement which said:

"The chief stumbling block continues to be the question of compulsory unionism."

That statement followed a four-hour bargaining session between President Philip Murray of the CIO and United Steelworkers and representatives of the industry.

A SECOND meeting was held by industry leaders representing the largest producers in the country. Following this two and a half hour huddle, industry leaders put out this word:

"Representatives of the steel companies met today with the union leaders and made an earnest effort to bring about a settlement of the issues in this strike."

"The chief stumbling block to such a settlement continues to be the question of compulsory unionism."

"There are no further meetings scheduled for today."

Premier Qavam Is Threatened With Assassination

TEHRAN, Iran, July 20 (AP) — The die-hard Nationalists of Mohammad Mossadegh filled the tense air of this riot-torn capital today with threats to assassinate his successor, Premier Ahmed Qavam.

Sporadic clashes continued throughout the country as an after-math of yesterday's Nationalist violence against the new premier, they've got one they don't quite know what to do about it.

Delegates are wandering through hotel lobbies and corridors with too many leaders reaching for the party's presidential nomination. They've split up the delegates to the point that no man can predict what is going to happen.

Two weeks ago, on the eve of the GOP convention, partisan Republicans were parading through hotel lobbies behind blaring bands.

Loudspeaker trucks were shouting messages at the arriving delegates. Most delegates already date.

So far, the Democrats have been more subdued. They are beset by rumors, divided between a dozen or more candidates or favorite sons. And they keep looking over their shoulder waiting for a sign of what President Truman is going to do.

The rumors go like this: "Gov.

Adlai Stevenson of Illinois has been chosen up sides between Sen.

Robert A. Taft of Ohio and Gen.

Dwight D. Eisenhower. The battle lines were drawn and the issue was clear. Shouting demonstra-

New Look Is Worn By Convention Hall For Demo Conclave

CHICAGO July 20 (AP)—The International amphitheater is wearing a new look for the Democratic National convention opening to-morrow.

Down has come the large picture of Abraham Lincoln, which looked soberly on during the Republican National convention.

To no one's surprise pictures of Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman have been put up instead.

The delegate looking at the platform also will see a banner that reads "Security for You and Your Family."

Judge Discharges Pottstown Man as Hearing Is Waived

By Staff Correspondent

POTTSTOWN July 20—William

Nagle, Pottstown RD 3, who was arrested for reckless driving in a private prosecution brought by

Betty Will, also of Pottstown RD 3,

was discharged by Judge E. Arnold

Forrest Thursday afternoon following a waived hearing. Costs

were placed on the county.

Miss Will alleged that Nagle's erratic driving caused a crash on May 9 between his car and her automobile at Beech and Keim streets. After hearing the testimony, however, Judge Forrest ruled that her charges were unfounded.

Howard H. Shawell of Road

1 Hilldale, who pleaded guilty recently to a charge of turning off the lights of an automobile to avoid arrest, was placed on parole by Judge Forrest.

The parole however is subject to what action the State Parole board may take since the defendant is still under its supervision for another offense.

When Shawell pleaded guilty it was testified that he was arrested as a result of a chase through Pottstown streets on the night of June 21 by Patrolman William

Mars.

MARS CLAIMED that he charged

Nagle in a patrol car after Joseph Micali of Reading was arrested for reckless driving in a private prosecution brought by

Betty Will, also of Pottstown RD 3,

was discharged by Judge E. Arnold

Forrest Thursday afternoon following a waived hearing. Costs

were placed on the county.

A subsequent investigation disclosed that the machine Shawell had been driving belonged to William Cuff, of Road B Hilldale

Shawell was located and placed under arrest.

Clarence A. Williams, of Harrisburg, was arrested for passing a red light at the High and Rosedale intersection.

He said he was traveling too fast on High street toward Reading to stop his car at a red light.

Williams said he put on his street tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

ing at 7:25 o'clock. He had been admitted to the hospital for the past four days.

Mr. Shaner was born in Pottstown, a son of Thomas R. Shaner and the late Adeline (Roser)

Shaner. He had resided at his present address for the past 32 years, prior to which he lived at 375 North

Charlotte Street.

From 1914 until approximately 20 years ago Mr. Shaner was a part ner with his father in the operation of a dry goods store at High and

Penn Streets. Later he became the sole owner.

In 1950 he sold the store and since that time has worked for a wholesale dry goods concern in Philadelphia.

Mr. Shaner was interested in music throughout his lifetime and at one time played violin in the Reading Symphony Orchestra and in various orchestras in Pottstown.

For many years he was a member of Trinity Reformed Sunday school orchestra under the direction of Eugene Weidner.

In recent years he played with the orchestra on special occasions, especially at annual orchestra concerts. He played for special Sunday services when Director Raymond

Forrest held his annual concert.

Two out-of-town motorists were arrested at the same Pottstown music requiring violins intersection early yesterday after-

In his memory the orchestra noon within half an hour of each played Chanson Triste by other by Patrolman William A. Tschakowski yesterday morning.

He was a member of the Transfiguration Lutheran church and of illness.

Mr. Oberholzer, a son of the late

Joseph and Esther (Landis) Oberholzer, was born on the old farm on which he worked for many years.

Raymond and Sister Mary Faith

Oberholzer died in 1955. They have been their instructors daughter, Irene, served at Potts-

He's true to God who's true to man.—James Russell Lowell.

Socialism Breeds Waste

A group of experts known as the President's materials policy commission has been conducting a long-range economic study of the nation's resources.

In the course of a five-volume report the conclusion is reached that the United States is exhausting its resources so rapidly that future security and economic expansion are "seriously" threatened.

There is no question but that rapid population growth and phenomenally high living standards, coupled with a continuing military emergency, are consuming materials of all kinds at a rate that calls for intelligent use and practical conservation of resources.

No one is more aware of these hard facts than industries which produce the goods and services that keep the country going.

One of the greatest benefits of the competitive system is its relentless push toward fullest utilization of natural resources. A pound of coal, a gallon of oil, a tree from the forest—all are used far more effectively now than ever before.

Ironically, a cause of great and needless waste of both energy and resources is found in the ideological warfare between the individual and the state being waged in our country.

Politicians constantly seek to extend the authority of government while private citizens must constantly fight for rights and liberties which are supposed to be guaranteed to them under the Constitution.

No Ore: No Steel

SUDDENLY everybody has awakened to the fact that mining and delivering iron ore are as important as the actual making of steel.

One isn't needed now with the steel strike on, but a long delay in digging and shipping ore will mean short supplies at the mills when winter shuts down traffic.

So the effect of the steel strike, and the parallel strike of iron miners, is likely to be much greater than at first seemed the case. A shortage of ore stocks could close the mills as effectively next February as the strike does now.

The miners look coolly on an appeal for them to go back to work. They have their own grievances and feel they would surrender a strategical advantage by working before their claims are completely settled.

So a quick end to the strike is doubly imperative.

The President, who hasn't used the powers which are his under the law, appears to be marking time.

That is hardly becoming, for in a large sense he was responsible for the tussle. His hand-picked wage stabilization board made recommendations—including substantial wage increases and the union shop—which were higher than had been expected. Settlement didn't come on those terms.

Now the President, who master-minded so much government interference in steel and other industries, has a particular obligation for getting things going.

In The Right Direction

AMERICAN hospital service last year reached an all-time high. In 6637 registered hospitals, 18,237,118 patients were admitted—one every 1.7 seconds.

There was also a very marked gain in extending accident and health protection among the people, as measured by the accurate yardstick of premium income. This income for accident and health insurance increased almost 28 percent over 1950.

What is the significance of such facts?

They show that we are making substantial and steady progress toward solving the financial problems that come with sickness and accident.

And we are doing it voluntarily, as individuals and members of organizations. We aren't doing it because the government tells us we must and taxes us to pay for it.

Economy Needed!

THE Joint Congressional Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation has estimated Federal revenue for the next fiscal year at a level $3,000,000,000 below the President's estimate. If strikes continue to reduce the income of corporations and their employees, revenue may shrink further.

When the average American's income begins to shrink that way, he looks for a way to cut expenses.

But not so in Washington. The military have told Congress they want $2,500,000,000 more than the President's budget allowed. Every time Congress suggests a smaller appropriation for any purpose, a bureaucratic hole rises.

"Tax and Spend" is still a popular song on the Potomac.

Dear Sir 'n' Brother:
Wal, I see by the papers where the Democrats had scouts studying the maneuvers of the GOP convention. Paying particular attention, no doubt, to that new quarterback of the Elephants, name of Eisenhower.

What probably intrigued the Donkey shtuhs most was that new play, the Texas shift!

And say: A headline says the Democrats differ on the man to beat. I thought their main concern was finding a man to elect!

READERS SAY:

Reader Welcomes Attack on Weed Problem

People Ahead of Council

To the Editor: Once again, it looks like John Q. Public has been way ahead of our council.

I'm talking about this weed situation.

For weeks, I've been seeing letters in Readers Say about all the weeds in vacant lots and a lot of my friends have been complaining about the way the lots look around town.

So finally, council got around to talking about it at least, although they won't necessarily do anything about it.

And it was high time somebody brought out in the open what everybody's been saying for weeks, that Burgess (William A.) Griffith won't take action against any of the big lot owners because they're friends of his and it wouldn't be good politics.

Pottstown HAY FEVER

Feels Neglected

To the Editor: I live down here in the Third ward and I want to say I'm glad Mr. (George F.) Ruyak and Mr. (Peter J.) Lawler got up in council Monday night and told the burgesses off about these way notices has been done about these places around Charlotte and Water streets where the property owners just refuse to put in sidewalks or fix up the ones already there.

I don't know why this should be such a neglected part of town. Maybe because a lot of the people are just average, or maybe poor, but our tax money is as good as anybody else's.

If somebody let a sidewalk go bad in some fancy North End neighborhood, the police would do something about it quick, but down here, we can all fall and break our necks for all anybody's going to do anything about it.

Third ward BITTER

A Silly Business

To the Editor: It is none of my business, I suppose, but all that stuff I have been hearing about the thousands of men in Pottstown and the whole State who are going to be climbing towers to look for enemy airplanes gives me a pain in the neck.

I suppose it is difficult to get the cool a place as any to spend an hour or so during the heat wave, but I think we have more important things to do than examine the sky.

The only reason for the program I have heard is to find out how our spotting system is.

I can tell them; it's terrible.

And it will continue to be terrible until this country has a lot more reason to look at the sky than it has now.

Pottstown S.S.

Bring Candidates Here

To the Editor: I should like to suggest to the people running the bicentennial that they try to make a real effort to have Eisenhower and whomever the Democratic candidate will be make a campaign stop in Pottstown this year.

I suppose it is difficult to get the Presidential candidates to go anywhere in particular, but I should think that if the bicentennial group really worked hard at it, and could promise the candidates a real crowd, they would get some results.

After all, President Truman's famous whistle-stop tour took in a lot of towns much, much smaller than Pottstown.

The birentennial celebration has been all right, I suppose, but it seems to me that at least one big program about something more serious than queens and antique autos should be tried.

INTERPRETIVE

French Communists Fail
In Anti-American Riots

By JOHN FISHER

THE PRO-AMERICAN coalition of Premier Antoine Pinay has been strengthened by the confusion in the high commands of the Gaullist and Communist movements.

Anyone familiar with the rapid changes in ministries can never be sure of stability or consistency in mercurial French politics.

But for the moment, bar some fresh explosion over foreign policy, inflation or seething North African nationalism, the prospect seems brighter for French support in a working arrangement with Germany against Russia.

Only a few months ago when Premier Faure's cabinet blew up after a brief 48 days of futility, many chicken-hearted people assumed that only a neo-dictatorship by the impecunious Charles de Gaulle could rule France.

But in March and again in the last fortnight the "Reunion of the French People" split. Twenty-eight deputies voted with Pinay in defiance of their leader's expressed command. So the General's ride on horseback seems farther away than ever.

However, the French People's Rally is a mighty potent element still. Its very refusal to join recent center ministries creates the only reserve capable of blocking the Communists should the Third Force collapse.

The current Communist hierarchy has maneuvered itself into such a mess that the French, instead of fearing the treacherous outfit, are laughing at it—the worst possible insult to Stalinist pride.

M. JACQUES DUCLOS, the former pastry cook who became Stalin's French field marshal, was thrown ingloriously into the hoosegow for his part in the recent anti-American riots. Later the meticulous courts released him on the plea of immunity granted to French deputies by David Faure a few weeks ago. So what happened? Sympathetic David handed her another one just like it during their dinner date the other night . . . An influx of G.I.'s and

Gotham Scenery:

Poodle-headed Rosalind Russell, looking young, scrubbed and different, surrounded by three admiring males at a Colony table . . . Yogi Berra, the homewrecker swatter, exhibiting a neat technique with the spaghetti fork and spoon at Theodore's . . . Alsace Township Police Chief lacerations of the right knee and abrasions on his right arm.

Charles B. Pfleiger accompanied the Exeter chief to Pottstown police headquarters where Horine, hoped to learn the location of Patton's home.

Desk Sgt. Russel B. Hummel queried patrolmen off duty as they reported into headquarters by telephone until Patrolman Thomas H. Corum said he knew where the Patton home was.

Horne, Pfleiger and Corum went to the Patton home at 3:15 a.m. yesterday but discovered it was that of the father of the man sought and Patton lived elsewhere.

The three officers were joined by West Pottsgrove Township Police Chief James Guadagno, who had been contacted by Hummel because the home was in his bailiwick. With Guadagno's aid, the officers found two tires in the house.

Patton's father, also named John, said he did not know where his son was living and his mother claimed Swoyer had brought the tires to the house, Horine said.

When apprehended later, Patton said he himself had taken the tires

K of C Degree Conferred Upon 42 Candidates

Forty-two candidates of Father Bally Council 1192, Knights of Columbus, last night received exemplification of the Second degree at a melting but colorful ceremony.

Members of the degree team, headed by Stephen J. Vagasky, suffered more than candidates at the hot session in the St. Aloysius Catholic school auditorium.

Others on the robed degree team were Francis Hennessey, W. Carroll Hadley, Stanley S. Specker, John Cione, Sylvester Peterka, Kenneth Knury, William Regan and William McDonough.

The council choir, under the direction of Chancellor Paul K. Marchek assisted in the exemplification.

With the 42 candidates, council membership has swelled past the 250 mark.

CANDIDATES WERE Frank C. Graham, Howard Heath Jr., Charles W. Wilgerath, Joseph C. Mack, Edward J. Dobry, George R. Marcavage, Raymond C. O'Donnell, Carl W. Cleaver, John A. Hunsberger.

Also, Anthony J. Dindino, Vincent P. Grimm, Samuel Perini, Francis J. Koren, Stanley Smola, Edward J. Sweeney, Thomas G. Roberts, Peter Dori, Albert Fontana, Albert A. Gotta, William Gotta, Robert L. Stauffer.

Also, Stephen J. Zensenski, Frank J. Kairo, Dominic T. Morello, Joseph J. Carn, Stephen Dujack, Anthony M. Iezzi, Charles D. Kepner, George P. Koren, George B. Waycock, Clyde S. Wary.

Also, George A. Soria, William L. Shaham, Joseph J. Ross, Elmer C. Pollock, James N. Lees, Anthony Falcone, Dominic A. Falcone, Nicholas Falcone, Donato Falcone, Joseph A. Giansante and Paul J. Dori.

After adjournment the 100 members present were served refreshments in the school cafeteria.

There will be a picnic for council members and families at Pudding's Picnic grove, near Fagleyville, on Sunday, Aug. 17.

Two Cars Damaged In Stowe Accident

The left front fender of an automobile driven by Patrick D. Colatosti, 36 Race street, Stowe, was damaged slightly about 7:30 o'clock last night when Colatosti's car and another driven by Foster E. Mauger, Pottstown RD 3, collided at Race and Rice streets, Stowe.

No one was injured. West Pottsgrove Police Chief James Guadagno, who investigated, estimated the damage to Colatosti's car at $25. Mauger's vehicle was undamaged.

Guadagno said Colatosti was traveling north on Race street and Mauger east on Rice street when the collision occurred.

There are no stop signs at the intersection. Each driver claimed the other was at fault.

Wreckage of Freighter Taken in Tow by Tug

NEW YORK, July 20 (AP)—The still smoldering wreckage of the Norwegian freighter Black Gull was taken under tow today by a big ocean-going salvage tug 65 miles off the eastern tip of Long Island.

The Coast Guard estimated it would take the tug—owned by the salvage firm of Merritt, Chapman and Scott—about two days to tow the freighter into New York harbor. Smoke still drifted from the Black Gull as a result of the naphthalene-fed fire which almost consumed her Friday night.

Governor Fine Speaks Of International Danger

CHICAGO, July 20 (AP)—Gov. John S. Fine of Pennsylvania said today the principal international danger "is not war, but Soviet conquest of the free world without war."

In an address prepared for a meeting of the Lithuanian societies of Chicago and Cook county, Fine said the United States reaction to Soviet seizure of Lithuania "has been far too soft and mild."

UAW Union Reports On Doehler Meeting

Four members of Doehler-Carus Local 1056, United Auto Workers, (CIO), yesterday reported on a June 23 meeting of the National Doehler council in Toledo, Ohio.

Leonard A. Keffer, president; John Linderman, chief steward; Arthur Day, production division council member, and Howard Evans, skilled division council member, addressed more than 250 members on the council session.

The council is composed of four representatives from the Pottstown, Toledo, Batavia, N. Y., and Chicago plants of the Doehler-Jarvis corporation.

The council met with corporation representatives to discuss company-wide problems.

President Keffer presided at yesterday's hot, brief session in the Diecasters club, 40 High street.

The remainder of the session was limited to routine business.

Roxbury Area Man Cuts Finger in Sink

Norman Wister, 37, of Roxbury RD 1, an employee at Lakeside Inn, Limerick, suffered a cut of the little finger of his right hand about 8:30 o'clock last night while cleaning a sink in the inn.

The wound was stitched at Pottstown hospital.

County Park Crammed With Weekend Visitors

Montgomery county park, near Green Lane, was crammed with 34,065 visitors over the weekend. Park Superintendent Otto Quinque reported last night.

Yesterday's 17,105 bathers, 4208 picnickers and 972 "impromptu" visitors arrived at the park in 4557 automobiles. "Impromptu" visitors Quinque defined as those who just come around to look at the park neither for bathing nor picnicking.

Saturday, 6628 bathers, 4372 picnickers and 780 "impromptu" visited the park in 2356 autos.

Vacationing Nurse Helps in Emergency

A vacationing nurse was called into action in Bally Friday morning when a woodworker cut his hand on a power saw.

Miriam Gehman, of Bally, nurse for Dr. John A. Anthony, Pottstown physician, gave first aid to August Letterhouse who had severe lacerations of the thumb and the second and third fingers of his left hand.

Miss Gehman was at her home, only about a block from the Letterhouse's shop behind his home. Neighbors, knowing she was at home, called her immediately after the accident.

Another neighbor, Asher Thomas, drove Letterhouse to Pottstown hospital, where he was given dispensary treatment.

Fists Fly as Men Try to Crash Caucus

CHICAGO, July 20 (AP)—Fists flew tonight as supporters of Herbert C. Holridge, who attempted to qualify a delegation for the California primary, tried to crash the first caucus of the California Democratic delegation. It is pledged to Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee.

Holridge, a retired Army brigadier general, has charged repeatedly that the Kefauver slate was elected illegally. The California courts, however, have rejected his contention.

A group of Holridge supporters started to enter the crowded caucus room demanding a chance to be heard. They were thrown back by California delegates.

Members of the delegation called for police after the Holridge group—about a half dozen youths whose names were not announced—the postponement. The learned—tried again to enter the caucus had been scheduled for 11:30 p.m. (Pottstown time) today.

Treated at Pottstown hospital and discharged were Spohn, abrasions of the left forehead, and possible injury to the left chest; Howard Berger Jr., small laceration of the left ear; his sister, Mrs. Elva Whitash, 25, multiple abrasions of both arms, legs, head and face; and Joseph Heffron, 20, lacerations of the left face.

All live at 362 North Charlotte street, a boarding house.

Paoli State Police troopers Joseph Havanietz and Herman Simms were investigating the accident early this morning.

Steelworkers to Get Negotiations Report

Members of Local 3802, United Steelworkers of America, (CIO) will meet in CIO Hall at 2:45 p.m. tomorrow to hear the results of wage negotiations being conducted with the Jacobs Aircraft Engine company.

The union grievance committee has been in session with company representatives since July 7, when the union took advantage of a 15-day wage reopening clause in the present contract which became effective the past Jan. 1.

The one-year contract gives the union the right to strike if no agreement is reached during the 15-day negotiations.

The grievance committee consists of President Mark L. Brown, Clarence Hartline, Bruce Gilbert, Robert Breuninger, Karl Gaver, Robert Weekly and Joseph Moyer.

The regular monthly meeting scheduled yesterday was postponed to tomorrow so that the members could receive the committee's report.

Delegates Too Busy For 15-State Caucus

CHICAGO, July 20 (AP)—A 15-state Democratic caucus which hoped to line up 264 midwestern delegates behind one presidential candidate was postponed tonight.

Reason given: The delegates were "much too busy." James C. Quigley, National committeeman from Nebraska, an delegate and a former State department commander of the American Legion, was knocked down.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS it is unlawful for any person, firm, association, corporation or the officers thereof, owning, leasing, occupying or having any interest in any real estate, property or land in the Borough of Pottstown to permit weeds or similar vegetation not edible or planted or cultivated for some useful or ornamental purpose to grow or remain on such premises, land or property, and

WHEREAS a Pottstown law declares all such weeds and similar vegetation to be a nuisance and detrimental to the health, safety and comfort and convenience to the inhabitants of the borough of Pottstown, and

WHEREAS the law states that where such weeds or other vegetation are permitted to grow or remain contrary to the provisions of the law, I have instructed the borough authorities to serve notice upon the owner, lessee or lessor, occupant or agent of the owner, lessee or lessor or upon any person having any interest therein, requiring the removal of the same within 48 hours, and

WHEREAS failing this, such weeds or similar vegetation shall be cut and removed by or under the direction of borough authorities, with the cost and a penalty of 20 percent collected, now

BE IT PROCLAIMED that it is the intention of the Borough of Pottstown to enforce such law against weeds. Any person, firm, association, corporation or the officers thereof violating the provisions of the law shall, upon conviction before the burgess or any justice of the peace, be subject to a fine of not less than $5 and not more than $25 for each offense, and

BE IT PROCLAIMED for the purpose of enforcing the penal provisions of the ordinance that it shall not be necessary to first notify the offender in order that the presence of such weeds may constitute an offense.

NOW THEREFORE I urge all citizens to comply with the law as of this date in order to avoid fine or commitment to jail.

General Chennault Fights In Court for Planes Held by Reds

LONDON, July 20 (UPI)—Maj. Gen. Claire Chennault begins a last-ditch legal fight tomorrow before Britain's highest court to win back 40 transport planes that were handed over to the Chinese Communists last year by the Hong Kong Supreme court.

The retired American "Flying Tiger" general has appealed to a panel of privy council peers in London for reversal of the Hong Kong decision.

With its backdrop of international politics, the case goes back to Dec. 19, 1948, when Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek was rapidly losing all the Chinese mainland. At that time some employees of Chinese airlines deserted to the Reds and flew some of the planes of two Chinese Government-owned airlines to Peiping.

At that point Chennault suddenly announced he had bought the two companies, whose assets were estimated to be worth 20 million dollars. The Chinese press said he paid four million dollars for the planes.

The disputed planes, now held in Hong Kong by Chinese Communist employees, were imposed by the British pending the outcome of the court battle over their ownership. At that time the British still had hope of salvaging their huge investments in Red China.

CHENNAULT has asked return of the planes to his Far East airline Civil Air Transport, incorporated.

There was no indication that the Chinese Communists will appear before the privy council panel to oppose the appeal.

Chennault has assembled in London a battery of top-flight legal talent to argue the case for CAT which is a Delaware-registered corporation.

Sir Hartley Shawcross, attorney-general in the former Labor Government, will represent CAT before the privy council. William "Wild Bill" Donovan, wartime director of the U. S. Office of Strategic Services, and Thomas G. Corcoran, prominent official of the Roosevelt Administration, are here as legal advisors for CAT. James J. Brennan, executive vice-president of CAT, is also in London for the hearings. CAT executives are optimistic.

Bell is in the TV Picture

As we in Pennsylvania join the citizens of many other states this week to watch the Democratic Convention in Chicago, few of us will remember that the televising of political conventions was, itself, one more of Pennsylvania's many "firsts."

In 1940, the Republican Convention was televised from Philadelphia to New York over a single 76-mile TV channel, and in 1948, both the Democratic and Republican Conventions were carried to seven cities in the East. From then on, step by step, transmission facilities were extended across the nation.

This week, with about 29,500 miles of radio-relay and coaxial cable channels from coast to coast in the Bell System's Television Network, the Democratic Convention is brought within reach of 99% of the nation's TV sets.

In Pennsylvania alone, there are 13 radio-relay towers like those that span the nation every 30 miles or so... and it's these towers, like sentinels on hilltops, that are bringing this Convention to you. Each tower picks up microwaves, amplifies them, and beams them to the tower ahead... and on these microwaves ride coast-to-coast TV as well as radio programs and hundreds of Long Distance telephone calls.

All this is only a part of the Telephone Company's desire to serve the communications needs of the people in every possible way.

Natives Acquitted In Resistance Uprise

CAPETOWN, South Africa, July 20 (UPI)—Nineteen non-whites who were arrested on July 3 at Port Elizabeth for entering the "whites only" section of a postoffice, have been acquitted. They had told the postmaster they were resisting "unjust laws."

At the trial the postmaster conceded that there were no whites at the counter at the time and that the natives had not hindered work of the postoffice. The magistrate ruled that since this was true, there was nothing to support the charge that they had "wrongfully and unlawfully" obstructed business.

Another group of 21 natives were convicted of using the whites' entrance to the New Brighton railway station at Port Elizabeth. They were each fined six pounds ($16.80), with the alternative of 30 days imprisonment.

Leaders of non-white groups launched a campaign June 26 to defy South Africa's Apartheid (separation of races) laws. Since then several hundred natives have been arrested.

about the outcome of their appeal employment applicants at the local office during June. Most of those Reds may not actively contest that applying for jobs were recent does not necessarily mean that the privy council will set aside the Hong Kong decision.

The disputed planes are twin-engined transports, five Convairs and 35 C-47's and 46's, originally operated by the Central Air Transport corporation, a Chinese Nationalist airline.

THE NEED for clerical workers continued to hold a lead position while openings for unskilled occupations decreased.

Unemployment compensation claims totaled 3226 for June as compared to 3425 for May. An increase is expected for July because of unemployment caused by the steel shortage.

Charlotte Skora Is Bride Of Mr. Gerald L. Flicker

A Summer wedding ceremony in Grace Lutheran church united in marriage Miss Charlotte Elizabeth Skora and Mr. Gerald Lawrence Flicker Saturday before approximately 300 friends and relatives.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Alice E. Skora, Gilbertsville RD 1. Mr. Flicker is a son of Mrs. Catherine Flicker, North State street.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the Rev. Edgar S. Brown Jr., pastor. The vows were pledged before an altar decorated with white gladioli and palms.

BRIDAL MUSIC was played by Hart, Stowe, and Warren F. M. by Miss Florence Erb, church Werner, Boyertown, organist, of Ringing Hill; and Mr. Claude A. Croll, Philadelphia, vocal.

RING BEARER was David Lee Skora, Gilbertsville, brother of the bride.

Given in marriage by her grandfather, Mr. J. Blaine Burns Sr., of Fruitville, the bride was attired in a powder blue dress of nylon with lace bodice and white accessories. Mrs. Flicker, mother of the bride, was attired in organdy and crinoline. Her sleeves were long and pointed over the shoulders. Both were corseted and the bodice featured a high collar and illusion neckline.

The skirt of the gown was caught up at the bottom with rhinestone clusters to form a scalloped effect. She wore a pearl choker.

From a crown of seed pearls and rhinestones fell a full length veil of net edged in wide lace. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid and ribbons which fell into a crown of flowers.

WHEN THE newlyweds left for their honeymoon trip to Atlantic City, the bride traveled in a blue and white linen suit with which accessories and her wedding orchid.

MAID OF HONOR was Miss Leona May Skora, Gilbertsville, RD 1, a sister of the bride. She wore a light blue strapless organdy gown with a short overskirt of white net caught at the bottom with tiny blue flowers to form a scalloped effect. A white net cape with a high collar of lace covered her shoulders. Tiny Boyertown High School in 1932 and flowers around the edge of the hem were empolyed by Daniel L. Freece, who gave a scalloped effect as a secretary.

Mrs. Flicker was graduated from Ruth Scheffley, 25 North Adams Street, maturity; Mrs. Mary Ann McCarthy, 135 King street, maturity; Mrs. George Stauffer, 600 King street, medical; Mrs. Ruth Scheffley, 25 North Adams Street, maturity; Mrs. John Leonard Russell Moyer, performed there by Rev. George A. Lineker, rector.

A double ring service united Miss Lewis and Mr. Leonard Russell Moyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Moyer, Sanatoga road, Sanatoga.

The bride approached the altar on the arm of her uncle, Mr. Andrew L. Lewis, Worcester. She chose as her bridal gown a ballerina frock of nylon tulle with lace inserts.

The bodice, with its wrist-pointed sleeves, was entirely of lace and featured a stand-up collar. The bouffant skirt was adorned with lace panels.

With her gown Miss Lewis wore a peaked cap of matching lace and a finger-tip veil of illusion and a face veil. She carried white orchids with stephanotis and gladioli.

MRS. MOYER is a granddaughter of the late Mr. Paul Ambrose noted organist and composer of anthems. He was president of the Canadian College of Organists Hamilton, Ontario, Canada. She is a graduate of Pottstown Senior High School with the class of 1951 and is employed at Loomcraft Frocks.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miles attended the couple as best man and maid of honor.

Mrs. Miles was attired in a party ballerina gown of blue nylon tulle, styled with a strapless bodice and matching stole and a bouffant skirt.

Her half hat was of matching blue tulle, and had as decoration a feather trim died to match the blue of her costume. She also wore matching blue pumps.

The wedding attended by immediate friends and relatives, was ushered by Mr. Elliot Silver.

The trip was in charge of Miss Dorothy Saylor, president, and Richard Frantz, vice president of the Youth Fellowship.

Accompanying the group were the Rev. John B. Frantz, pastor; John Crizman, 94 South sages of orchids.

Mrs. Lewis, mother of the bride, wore a dress of champagne tulle with a black lace hat and accessories.

Mrs. Moyer chose an aqua marine gown, worn with white accessories. Both women had cosmetics.

Reading Church Is Scene Of Area Girl's Marriage

Miss Carolyn Clouser, Douglassville RD 1, and Mr. Ralph R. Clements, West Leesport RD 1, were married Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Calvary Lutheran church, Reading.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. George L. Clouser, Douglassville RD 1, and the late Mrs. Clouser. Mr. Clements is a son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Clements, West Leesport RD 1.

Officiating at the ceremony was the Rev. Mark Trexler, pastor of the church. Palms and plaques of white flowers dominated by gladioli were used on the altar. Music was presented by the church organist, Mrs. Anna Conner.

GIVEN IN marriage by her a gray nylon batiste dress with father, the bride wore a white pique trim, white accessories length gown of white organdy and an orchid.

yellow faille. The strapless torso bodice was tucked and of organdy, topping the full skirt of eyelet. The waistline was marked with a yellow sash with long streamers. Completing her attire was a jacket of eyelet with a Peter Pan collar and elbow-length sleeves.

Nylon mitts and a pancake hat of white embroidery studded with rhinestones, with nose veil attached, completed her costume. She carried a prayerbook topped with an orchid.

Matron of honor, Mrs. James Nazle, sister of the bride, wore an embossed white organdy gown over aqua faille. The bodice had a Peter Pan collar and the sleeves were the cap type. The bouffant skirt had a tiny ruffle at the hemline. The waistline was marked with an aqua sash. Her costume was completed with a small white eyelet hat. She carried a small Colonial bouquet.

MR. WARREN ADAMS, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man.

After a wedding reception at the Neversink Rod and Gun club, the couple left on a honeymoon trip of an undisclosed destination.

For traveling the bride chose

Mr. and Mrs. Reider Are Honored at Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin H. Reider, Douglassville, who observed their 50th wedding anniversary Saturday were honored at a dinner held at Fountain House Inn, Doylestown, by their families.

The dinner table was centered with a bowl of Summer flowers and a large three-tier wedding cake, flanked on either side by tall tapers.

Mrs. Evelyn Warner, of Philadelphia, a close friend of the celebrants, presented Mrs. Reider with a corsage of golden flowers, and a golden boutonniere to Mr. Reider. A corsage of gardenias was given to Mrs. Thomas Church. Mrs. Reider's only sister, and Mr. Church received a white carnation. A special dinner guest was the Rev. Paul J. Dundore, pastor of Amityville Lutheran church, where the couple was married 50 years ago.

Can't Alone for Past by Poisoning Future

A great many people make the mistake of thinking that the way she can stop making a career of being alone for errors of the past is to spend the future concentrating on being sorry for them.

Here is a letter from a young woman who is wasting her time, her emotions and her physical energies in brooding and vain regrets which cannot possibly retrieve the past but can only poison the future.

"I am 19 years of age, and so lonely and heartbroken over a past mistake," she writes. "I can't get hold of myself."

ABOUT A year ago, I left home because I didn't want my parents to tell me who I go with and what time to come home. I wanted to go out with whoever I pleased, and if they happened to be rough characters I didn't want to hear the truth. So I moved from home, and lived first with a girl friend and then by myself. My friends had painted a beautiful picture of how fine it was to be one's own boss, but when I lost my job on account of sickness, my friends left me.

"Our family doctor and minister warned me that the way I was behaving would hasten my mother's death, but I was too smart to care about or see anything but my own selfish pleasures. In less than six months, my mother had passed on, and now I have such terrible regrets that I cry all the time.

"Dad brought me back home, but it's not the same without mother. The place is so dark and empty, and to think I did it all through my smartness!"

"HOW CAN I ever forgive myself for the heartaches I caused my dear mother, and what can I do to change things now for the better? I am so lonely and blue, and need her love so badly. Why didn't I listen to her while she was alive? Here dad and I sit, all broken up. If I could only live those years over again! It's so terrible to visit my mother's grave and to think I put her there.

"Please tell me how to forget my terrible mistake. What this girl needs to realize is that to keep both herself and her father wallowing in misery and despair is not the way to make amends for the past."

THE WAY to make amends for the past is for her to put it behind her and concentrate on making the future what her mother would have wanted it to be. She is not

Pin-On Hairpiece

Make short locks look long in a jiffy with pin-on hair. In beauty shops where hair goods are sold, you will find many offerings, in case you are thinking of adding to your natural growth. You will have your choice of single, double or triple strands to be arranged as desired—a single or double roll, a twist, a chignon or flat sculptured curls that can be placed midway between the nape line and the crown of the head. They are a convenience when the comfortable daytime short bob is to be transformed a more feminine evening coiffure. With the changing hairdo trends, from cropped to long, back to cropped again, hairpieces are invaluable for the transition period—and incidentally are a mighty pretty addition to disguise the growing-out process.

ASK HIGHER MILK PRICE

PITTSBURGH, July 20 (AP)—The Keystone Milk Producers association says it will ask the State Milk Control commission to advance milk prices again in the Fall.
